CHEAP DATE CLEVELAND LAUNCHES NEW WEB SITE TO PROVIDE CLEVELANDERS WITH INEXPENSIVE AND CREATIVE DATE IDEAS

The new Web site is designed to provide Cleveland's dating scene with timely ideas for dates that will not break the pocketbook.

CLEVELAND – Feb. 22, 2010 – Cheap Date Cleveland recently launched a new website to provide those looking for cost-effective and imaginative date ideas a venue to visit on a daily basis. This new web site found at www.cheapdatecleveland.com is updated several times per week with new and exciting date ideas that will keep consumers frugal and entertained.

This suggestive site supplies unique examples of entertaining dates, categorized by location, day of the week and even event type, with the majority priced at under $30 per couple. What's more, many of these dating ideas are free of charge. With a site-wide search feature and regularly-updated event calendar on the sidebar, visitors to Cheap Date Cleveland can easily discover ideas to fit any schedule. The web site's weekly features include witty and informative reviews on specific events, including: site location, dates and times of events, options for public transportation or bicycling, as well as guidance to either recreate the event at a different time and location or to add on to an already-amazing date. Oftentimes, first date advice is given tongue-in-cheek, but the always entertaining Cheap Date Cleveland offers a wealth of information (and a little bit of regional history) to create the perfect Cleveland dating experience.

"As a Clevelander, I saw the need for a channel that would provide locals with new, fun and inexpensive ways to date," says Melinda Urick, founder of Cheap Date Cleveland. "More bang and culture for your buck is what I suggest!"

Cheap Date Cleveland recognizes civic-minded Clevelanders are cautious about spending and are budgeting fewer dollars for entertainment and nights out, so the web site focuses on reasonably-priced events in their own backyards. By doing this, Cheap Date Cleveland is able to help keep local dollars in the region, by supporting its local business – art galleries and museums to small bookstores and libraries to independently-owned grocery, beer and wine stores – by focusing on non-profit and creative events in all of Cleveland’s diverse and eclectic neighborhoods.
